The New Frontier

Welcome to Destination Africa

Africa is the new frontier!!

Dear DA Participant,

It's no secret to any global textile player that Africa is becoming the new textiles limelight globally due to its constantly rising competitiveness and development slope.

We are not only trying to build a continental supply chain, but, with your cooperation and support, we are trying to integrate African textiles' into the Global Value Chain (GVC).

With its unprecedented textiles heritage, diverse competitive edges, geniously located at the northeast corner of the continent. Egypt is well positioned to work closely with all African nations to attain prodigious developments in the textile sourcing world.

Today, from the heart of Egypt and Africa, we welcome you to the first edition of Destination Africa, the Pan-African B2B trade show and conference.

We wish you a successful and prosperous visit to Cairo, and the organization looks forward to meeting every exhibitor, buyer and Government official in person during the show. We also hope to see you next year in the second edition of the show on November 11-12, 2017.

Best regards,
Mohamed Kassem

AFRICAN EXPORT-IMPORT BANK
BANQUE AFRICAINE D'IMPORT-EXPORT

African Export-Import Bank

The African Export-Import Bank (Afreximbank), headquartered in Cairo, is a trade finance-focused development bank established in October 1993 as a multilateral trade development institution to finance and promote trade among African countries and between the continent and the rest of the world.

Under the terms of its Establishment Agreement, and as a supranational institution, the Bank enjoys special privileges and exemptions in its Participating States and enjoys preferred creditor status in its countries of operation.

As a profit-oriented multilateral institution with a mixed public-private shareholder base, it focuses on private sector loans, guarantees and advisory services. Its four-tier shareholder base consists of: Class "A", constituted of African states, African central banks and African public institutions; Class "B", made up of African financial institutions and African private investors; Class "C", with shares held by non-African investors, mostly international banks and export credit agencies; and Class "D", under which shares are fully paid par value that can be held by any investor.

The Bank has Branch Offices in Abuja, Nigeria; Harare, Zimbabwe; and Abidjan, Cote d'Ivoire. Negotiations for a Branch Office in Nairobi, Kenya, are ongoing.

Vision: To be the Trade Finance Bank for Africa

Mission: To stimulate a consistent expansion, diversification and development of African trade while operating as a first-class, profit-oriented financial institution and a centre of excellence in African trade matters.

Constituent Instruments:

Establishment Agreement, signed by participating states and multilaterals, which gives it the status of an international organization registered with the United Nations; and Headquarters Agreement with Egypt, which connects the Establishment Agreement with the legal jurisdiction in which the Bank operates.

Total assets	US$ 7.133 billion	Gross loans out-standing	US$ 6.168 billion
Operating income	US$ 231 million	Net income	US$ 125.32 million
Ratings:	Fitch: BBB-/F3(stable)	Moody's: Baa2/P-2 (stable)

Since 1994, the Bank has approved more than US$ 41 billion in credit facilities for African businesses, including about US$ 6.2 billion in 2015.

International Labour Organization

Exports Project
Partners for Competitiveness & Decent Work

International Labour Organization (ILO)

ILO Export's Project is promoting the Chamber of Textile and Readymade garments export Industries in accessing new markets;

International Labour Organization (ILO) is the united nations specialized agency devoted to advancing opportunities for women and men to obtain decent and productive work in conditions of freedom, equity, security and human dignity.

Since its beginnings, the ILO has sought to promote a better life for all. As the ILO constitution declares: "Universal and lasting peace can be established only if it is based on social justice".

Created by the treaty of Versailles in 1919, along with the League of Nations, the ILO traversed the Second World War with its principals, methods and goals not only intact but reiterated and reinforced. Through war and peace, depression and economic boom, decolonization and globalization, the ILO has brought together the actors of the world of work to forge solutions to some of the most pressing problems of our times and to offer ideas, options and policy instruments in the pursuit of social justice.

ILO Export's Project;

Background: This project known as "Promoting Worker Rights and Competitiveness in Egyptian Export Industries" will contribute to the promotion of decent work in Egypt by supporting improved compliance with the fundamental principles and rights at work, improved labour management cooperation and higher levels of productivity. It will focus on improving outcomes for employers and workers in Egypt's labor-intensive export sectors, particularly the food processing sector, which represent a critical source of employment and growth for the economy.

This project will seek to strengthen respect for labour standards and build productivity within export factories by providing different types of services and activities to improve the readymade garment, textile and food processing exporting factories work environment and productivity, such as:

- Improving the capacity and expertise of the HR, the Occupational Safety and Health and Compliance departments at the targeted factories to decrease the labour turnover, improve safety at the work place, create management systems and improve compliance with the international labour standards, global buyers requirements and international standards (such as: SEDEX, WRAP, SA 8000,.... and etc.)

- Providing training programs for worker and management representatives to further increase their awareness of the duties and rights at work, Occupational Safety and Health good practices, social dialogue, building consensus and dispute settlements.
- Providing ongoing technical support to the targeted factories through a team of professional advisors to monitor the project's implementations at the factory level.
- Providing visual awareness materials to the factories comprising the program of workers' rights and duties and the OSH program.
- Organizing annual Buyers' Forum for the textile global buyers and brands in Egypt; the forum is organized in cooperation with the international partners and exporting councils to further promote Egypt as a Responsible Sourcing Country.

Project achievements: 50% of the targeted exporting factories (45 out of 90 companies) have improved the safety at the workplace, industrial relations and reduced the turnover rates; the info graph is highlighting the project progress during the last two years:

January 2015 – October 2016

Cotton Egypt Association

The Cotton Egypt Association is a non-profit association established in 2005 with support from the Ministry of Industry and Foreign Trade. The association's mission, working closely with local and international companies involved in the Egyptian cotton supply chain, is to protect the Egyptian cotton's legacy of luxury and help promote all Egyptian cotton licensees and their products.

Cotton Egypt's mission is to manage the market, protect, promote, license and monitor the Egyptian cotton logo and its licensees, as well as guarantee the authenticity of products licensed to use the logo. This ensures products carrying the Egyptian cotton logo are softer, finer and more resilient than products made from other fibers.

In addition to working with Egyptian cotton growers and manufacturers, Cotton Egypt Association has partnered with the Export Council, Cotton Organizations and NGOs to ensure adherence to international labor, safety and trade standards.

The licensing system covers the entire supply chain of Egyptian cotton users to monitor quantities purchased and sold by each licensee and draw a map of its usage and establish a traceability system around the world.

This will enable monitoring of location, quantities, brands, manufacturers and retailers to track the journey from bale to stores.

Cotton Egypt verifies the data in the applications, sets criteria for testing samples and checking results, assures quality and standards of using the logo, and conducts random auditing visits to licensees' premises. Moreover, Cotton Egypt checks websites that promote Egyptian cotton products and notifies them of proper usage. Cotton Egypt regularly collects samples of products that are promoted as Egyptian cotton from retailers, tests them and addresses their producers.

In 2015, Cotton Egypt began a retail promotion of the Egyptian cotton logo by announcing changes in the accreditation process.

Cotton Egypt Association has initiated the "Total Transparency" process with clearly defined criteria in certifying product manufacturer with Egyptian cotton. Through collaboration, CEA works on this process with those mills who have developed systems monitoring current Egyptian cotton through their production flow.

Where mills are using genuine Egyptian cotton, they will be reviewed for substantiation of the Egyptian cotton usage from the confirming data available.

Cotton Egypt Association strives to promote the Egyptian cotton products and protect the global market from counterfeit merchandise.

Sharabati Denim is the brand of our fully integrated textile company producing both finished denim and flat fabrics, our factory is located in Sadat City, Egypt. The company was founded in Aleppo, Syria in 1978 by Mohamad Sabbagh Sharabati. It was one of the first in the Middle East to produce both corduroy and denim. It expanded to cover all production ranges, from yarn to high quality finished fabrics. In 1998, Sharabati Denim extended its production to Egypt. Like in Syria, it has ever since grown to include complete spinning, weaving, dyeing and finishing stages. In 2013 a new production plant in Sadat City was completed, reaching a total covered area of 180,000 sq. m. This project includes the latest State-of-the-art Technologies, allowing for a yet more versatile and higher quality product. Today, Sharabati Denim employs over 1900 individuals and produces 50 million running meters of fabric per annum. Sharabati Denim's main foreign markets include Europe, Turkey and North Africa, with sales offices in Egypt, Turkey and Tunisia.
